

One year (fast-track) A level Courses

Fine Arts College runs specialist fast-track A level courses which are ideal for able students who wish to study a subject(s) intensively over a one year period, and who we believe are capable of meeting this academic challenge.

These courses are especially suitable for:

- Students who have studied A levels previously.
- Students who have previously studied for Pre-U, IB or similar examinations.
- International students who have completed their high school education abroad and need A levels for British or American university entrance.

Our average class size is seven to encourage maximum learning, engagement and communication. All our tutors are highly experienced and able to run the courses at a challenging pace. Tutors thus give students both individual attention and professional guidance.

All students have a Personal Tutor who mentor them throughout the year. They meet each week and the Personal Tutor is responsible for advising on higher education applications, giving support during the examination period, and available for advice once the results are released. For example, if a student has narrowly missed a conditional offer, the Personal Tutor will take up their case directly with the educational institution. This can make the vital difference in achieving a place at a sought-after university or art college.
